Meeting In "The Garden Of Friendship"

Wide and varied are the stories behind last years' Junior-Senior Banquet. Some tell of their dates, some of the food, some of the Grand March, but most of the fun!

Nevertheless, it was not all fun. Much planning and hard work went into the making of the "Garden of Friendship." Magazines were sold to foot the bills, such as renting the Houston Hotel dining room, buying the meal, and securing suitable decorations. These many jobs became the responsibility of various groups of students, who did much in making the banquet possible.

Then the day came when the class of '72 was off to decorate the hotel. Decorating was fun, but not so fun that some did not leave a little early to do other things. Regardless, the decorating was completed and everyone was in the mood to have an enjoyable night.

Again that night everyone returned to the hotel for the real thing. Mr. Gene Brannon, then our assistant principal, served as MC, trying to form a few smiles on the stiff faces of the stiffly dressed students. Class President, Nina Faye Ham, welcomed everyone and truly broke the ice for all present. Several class members gave speeches, some gave jokes and comments on past days, and others entertained with songs and music.

The banquet, the decorating, the committee meetings, the ordering, the planning, even the magazine sales was fun... especially now that such wonderful memories are left from that time.

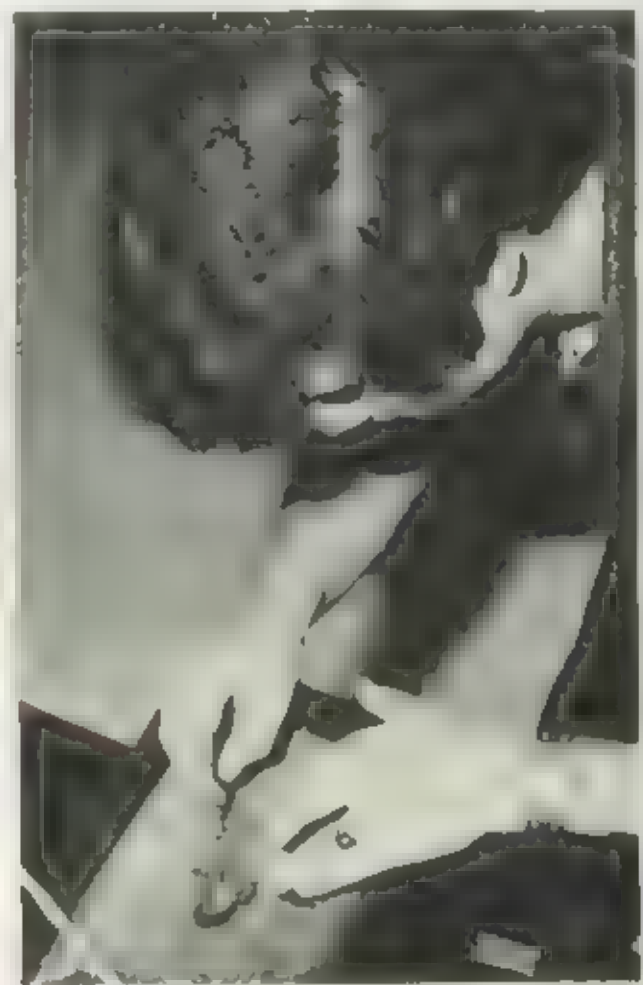

Outstanding Students

Joy Granger

It is certainly a proud moment each year when Geneva County High School announces the selection of Outstanding Students. Not only is it a time of glory for those elected, but it is also a time of great pride for friends and fellow classmates of GCHS. Their display of devotion and desire to share their school enjoyment makes these students an extremely great asset to our school.

The 1972 Outstanding Students were chosen by the faculty of GCHS upon consideration of each student's attitude, grades, character, and school participation. Students chosen from the tenth grade were Kathy Holland and Keith Thomas. Those selected from the eleventh grade are Laura Wood Ravenbark, Mary Hardy, Mary Childs, Joy Granger, and Danny Price.

Homecoming Events

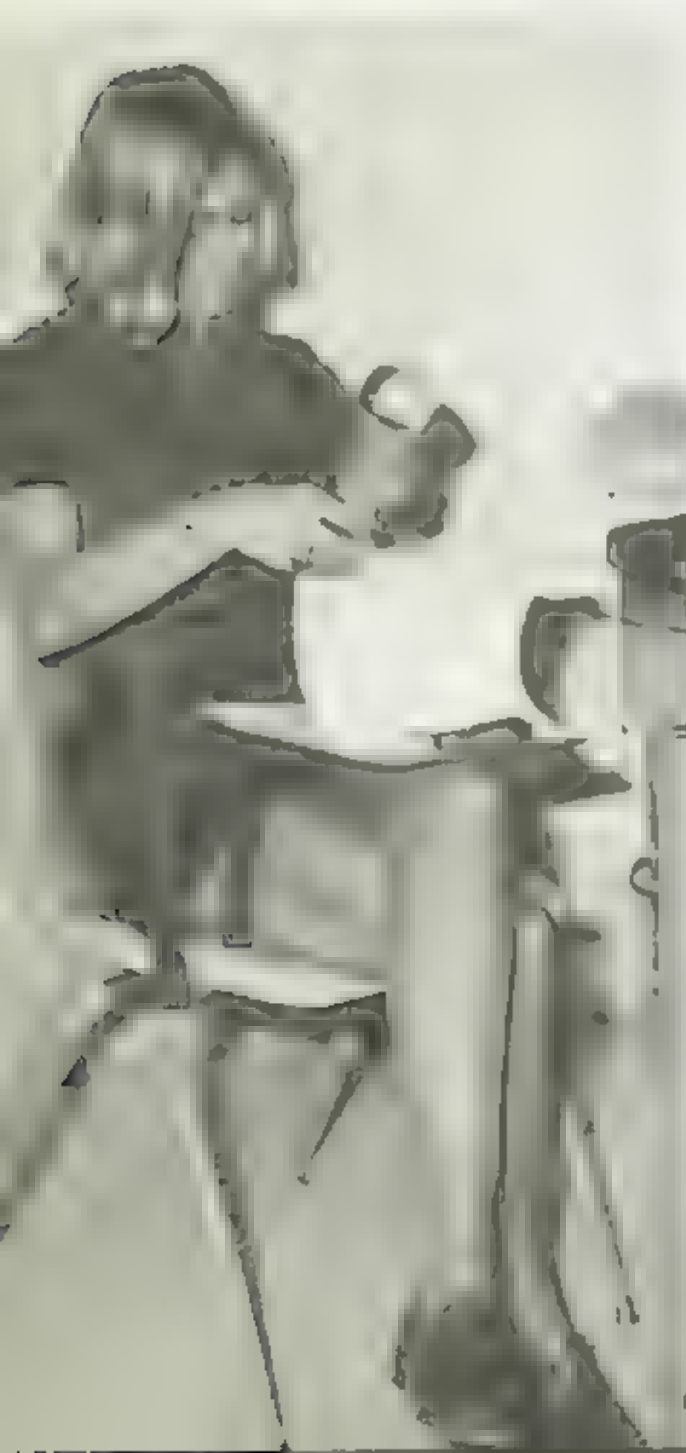

Homecoming affects everyone. And everyone does his part to make each new Homecoming a meaningful and successful experience. There are pep rallies and bon fires to support.

Last minute preparations for the parade are made and the excitement begins. The band and cheerleaders boost the spirit of the entire parade, and the bars and floats of the individual grades and clubs allow every willing student to participate.

Businesses and Civic organizations do their part in arousing the interest of other parts of the community by store decorations and their own parade entries.

Events reach the peak with the crowning of the 1971-1972 Homecoming Queen, Mary Ann Dean, and ending with the most important of all, the football victory over Opp.

That we do not honestly want

Dedication . . . Mrs. Barbara Gilman

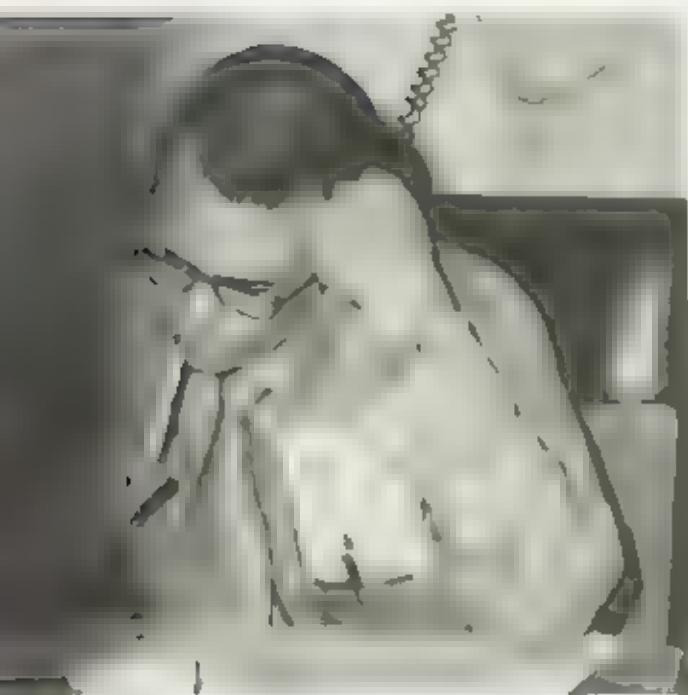

The 1972 Gecorala is dedicated to MRS. BARBARA GILMAN because of the magnificent work she has done as a teacher and for the years she has spent as Student Council Advisor. Mrs. Gilman also deserves this recognition because of the inspiration she has been in the lives of so many students and fellow faculty members.

Mrs. Gilman, may we thank you for being as you have been. We wish for you to know what an inspiration your life has been on ours. May you continue to be a blessing, and may you be often rewarded.

Geneva County High School began the 1971-72 school year under the direction of a completely different staff. Heading the list is our new principal, MR. GENE BRANNON, who was assistant principal last year. Also new are our two assistant principals, MR. JOE JONES and MR. HAL WAGGONER.

In spite of the differences and the changes, 1971-72 has been a good year. The students of GCHS owe much to these administrators for making the year all it has been. Special thanks belong to Mr. Brannon, because we realize the challenge he has faced, and recognize his ability in overcoming many difficulties.

CLASSES . . .

In this time of learning our lives have expanded vastly

Even beyond the farthest point we can imagine

Much have we gained, but much more were we offered

But for reasons unknown remain unused

Yet someday each morsel will find a purpose and make life richer

One of the champs ...

A talented Junior!!

SENIORS . . .

Never have times been so short and wished longer

As this time when we find ourselves soon to be gone

Feeling excited and elated,
though somewhat dejected

And special, but somehow quite uncaring

But at last appreciative of the present, and mindful of the future
